

I am a flight attendant with Northwest Airlines. I feel the use of cellullar phones during flight would be a safety issue. Passengers talking on phones would not be attentive to the safety demo prior to departure, would not hear overhead announcements or listen to crew members when necessary. Not to mention, cellular phone use could lead to rage on the plane because of being a major distraction to those who want to sleep or at least relax. Most peple don't want to hear other people's conversations! Cellular telephone use must not be allowed!
